

BREW TEA COMPANY

HELLO FROM TEA HQ

We're quite new on the tea scene. In the scheme of things anyway. We're small, but we're doing our best to make a few changes. A huge part of this relates to understanding more and more about where our tea comes from. As a small company we benefit greatly from Ethical Tea Partnership movement and we continue to be committed to and support it and the associated causes.

OUR APPROACH TO BUYING TEA

Our approach here is simple. We only buy high quality rolled whole leaves from suppliers who are skilled in growing and creating great tasting products. We follow a "getting closer to the leaf" approach which helps us to remove layers in the tea buying process. The key parts of this approach are:

We only work with our suppliers and partners who help us to source and gather full information on the origins of the tea we buy. If the information isn't available we don't buy it.

Where possible, and certainly for our high volume blends, supply contracts are agreed annually and the price paid reflects the high quality leaves that we buy.

All tea purchased is required to carry third party sustainability certification in addition to our Ethical Tea Partnership membership.

In addition to our ETP membership and certification requirements we are also became a certified B Corp in 2016. This reflects a wider belief that we should carry out all of our work in a way which is responsible and a force for good.

Phil Kirby

Co-founder, Brew Tea Company